PARLIAMENTARY ASSEMBLY OF BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA

The Parliamentary Assembly of Bosnia and Herzegovina was established with the signing of the Dayton Peace Agreement, which was agreed to in the town of Dayton (USA) during the month of November and was signed on 14 December 1995 in Paris.

This highest-level legislative body of Bosnia and Herzegovina consists of two Houses, the House of Representatives and the House of Peoples, and all legislative decisions require approval in both Houses of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH.

Prior to 2002 the mandate of Members of the Parliamentary Assembly lasted for two years, but since the 2002 elections they have been elected and delegated four-year mandates.

The Parliamentary Assembly adopts laws, approves the budget, and makes decisions on the sources and the amount of revenue needed for financing the institutions of Bosnia and Herzegovina and its international obligations. The Parliamentary Assembly confirms the appointment of the Chair and Members of the BiH Council of Ministers, gives consent for the ratification of international treaties and decides on other issues that are necessary for it to exercise its own responsibilities or those assigned to it by an agreement between the entities.

The Houses of the Parliamentary Assembly perform legislative, informative and oversight activities and regulate internal organization and their own operating methods.

The seat of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH is in Sarajevo, Trg BiH 1.

CONSTITUTION OF BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA

The Constitution of Bosnia and Herzegovina is an integral part of the General Framework Agreement for Peace in Bosnia and Herzegovina, better known as the Dayton Peace Agreement, which was initiated on 21 November 1995 in the American town of Dayton and signed on 14 December 1995 in Paris.

The text of the Constitution of BiH is represented in Annex 4 of the adopted peace agreement which provided Bosnia and Herzegovina with a complex and decentralised state structure consisting of two entities, the Federation of BiH and the Republika Srpska. The original text of the Constitution of BiH is written in the English language.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEDURE

A bill may be introduced by any representative, any committee of the House, any joint committee, both Houses, as well as by the BiH Presidency and the BiH Council of Ministers within the scope of their respective competencies.

The bill is submitted to the Speaker who forwards it immediately to the Collegium. The Collegium shall decide within seven days to which committee the proposed draft law should be assigned, forward it to the Constitutional-Legal Committee for its opinion on compliance with the BiH Constitution and the legal system and then forward it to the competent committee for an opinion on the principles on which the proposed draft law is grounded.

If the Collegium decides that a Joint Committee of both Houses is the competent committee, the bill is delivered to the Joint Collegium. Upon confirmation by the Joint Collegium that the Joint Committee is the competent committee, the bill is delivered to the Constitutional-Legal committees of the Houses. After the Constitutional-Legal committees provide their opinion, the procedure is continued by the relevant Joint Committee pursuant to the Rules of Procedure of the Houses.

Upon receipt of the opinions from the Constitutional-Legal Committee and the competent committee, which is delivered by the Speaker of the House, the Collegium puts the draft law onto the agenda of a House session that is scheduled to take place within 7 to 15 days.

The discussion in the House is conducted in two readings.

The discussion in the House commences with the first reading, which deals with the need to pass the draft law and the principles the draft law is based on, and takes into consideration the opinions provided by the Constitutional-Legal Committees and the competent committee from the first phase of deliberation. After the first reading, the competent committee discusses the draft law again. During this phase, the authorised proponents in the competent committee may submit amendments to the text of the draft law.

The second reading consists of a discussion and vote on proposed amendments, and a vote on the law in its final form.

A law is considered adopted after both Houses have approved identical versions of it. If the versions adopted by both Houses are not identical, a Joint Commission is established in order to attempt to reach an agreement on an identical text.

If one of the Houses does not adopt the report of the Joint Commission, the draft law shall be deemed rejected.

The design phase of the Assembly building of the Socialist Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina lasted from 1975 to 1977, after which the construction work started on building a useful office space of approximately 25,000 m<sup>2</sup>. The designer of this project was professor Juraj Najthart and during the design and implementation phases the project was managed by professor Hamdija Salihović and his associates.

The construction of this large building was finished in the latter part of 1980 and was initially used by the Assembly and some Ministries of the Socialist Republic of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

When it was designed and built, the Assembly building was one of the best equipped government facilities in Europe.

During the war, between 1992 and 1995, the building suffered significant damage and devastation but has been mostly restored in the post war period, from 1996 to 2005.

With the state's resources, as well as funding from the EU and the international community, the restoration work has been progressing constantly up to the present day.

GRAND HALL

An integral part of the facility of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH is the Grand Hall, which has 524 seats in the central area and an additional 112 seats for visitors and the media in the galleries. The Grand Hall was almost totally destroyed during the war. It was officially reopened on 30 September 2005 after the first phase of its reconstruction was completed.

In the first phase of its reconstruction, the Grand Hall was equipped with multimedia hardware essential for the functioning of a modern parliamentary and congressional area. This basic IT infrastructure will allow for the introduction of new technologies in subsequent phases of development.

Currently, the Grand Hall is used to host large public hearings, congresses, symposiums, conferences, and other similar manifestations.

Apart from the Grand Hall and the White Hall, the facility of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH has four smaller meeting halls, including a ceremonial saloon and a hall for press conferences.

The Assembly Hall on the fourth floor of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH facility is currently under reconstruction.

WHITE HALL

After 12 years of disuse, on 22 March 2004, the White Hall was reopened on the second floor of the BiH Institutions Building for a joint plenary session of both Houses of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH. Since then, Members of Parliament have had access to improved facilities and current technology, such as an electronic voting system, which enables a more reliable and quicker voting and decision-making process.

The White Hall has a total of 180 seats. Apart from active participants, sessions can be attended by numerous guests such as journalists, pupils, students, representatives of non-governmental organisations and other interested individuals. With the reopening of the White Hall, conditions were established that could support the implementation of the "Open Parliament" project and high-quality television recording.

THE HOUSE OF PEOPLES

The House of Peoples of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH has 15 delegates, two thirds of whom are from the Federation of Bosnia and Herzegovina (five Bosniak and five Croat delegates) and one third are from the Republika Srpska (five Serb delegates).

The nominated Bosniak and Croat delegates from the Federation of BiH are elected by Bosniak and Croat delegates respectively in the House of Peoples of the Federation of BiH, while the delegates from Republika Srpska are elected by the National Assembly of Republika Srpska.

The work of the House is managed by the Collegium, which is comprised of the Speaker and the First and Second Deputy Speakers of the House. In line with the Constitution of BiH, the role of Speaker rotates between these three Members every eight months.

The Speaker, with the agreement of the Deputies, or at his/her own initiative, convenes Sessions of the House and proposes the agenda.

According to the Rules of Procedure of the House of Peoples, the Collegium is tasked with: “enabling delegates to exercise the rights and duties that are related to the execution of their mandate; proposing the criteria which regulate the rights and duties of professional delegates; co-operating with the House of Representatives, including on the convention of plenary sessions of both Houses upon its own request or that of the Collegium of the House of Representatives; scheduling joint sessions of the Collegia; exercising the rights and duties of the House with regard to the Presidency of BiH and the Council of Ministers of BiH under the BiH Constitution, the law and these Rules of Procedure; as well as with performing other duties.”

A proposed decision of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH can be declared destructive to the vital interests of the Bosniak, Croat, or Serb people by a majority of votes from the Bosniak, Croat or Serb delegates in the House of Peoples. Such proposed decision has to be approved by a majority of Bosniak, Croat, and Serb delegates who are present and voting.

In the event that a majority of Bosniak, Croat or Serb delegates object to an invocation of the protection of vital interest, the Speaker of the House of Peoples will immediately convene a Joint Commission consisting of three members (one Bosniak, one Croat and one Serb delegate) in order to resolve the issue. If this Commission fails to resolve the issue within five days, the case is transferred to the Constitutional Court, which will, under emergency procedure, review the procedural correctness of the matter.

The House establishes permanent and temporary committees of the House and, together with the House of Representatives, also establishes permanent and temporary joint committees of both Houses of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH.

A committee of the House of Peoples consists of no more than six members. The allocation of seats in the committees must reflect the relative size of the caucuses in the House of Peoples. Two-thirds of the committee members must be from the Federation of BiH and one-third from the Republika Srpska. A committee takes decisions by a simple majority on the condition that a quorum exists in which all three constituent peoples are represented.

The committee will elect its Chairperson as well as the First and Second Deputy Chairpersons from amongst its members. They will be elected from the three constituent peoples.

The committees provide opinions, submit proposals and reports to the House and perform other duties as stipulated by the Rules of Procedure or the law. The committees also decide on matters for which the House has transferred them the competencies for, but the competence to adopt laws cannot be transferred to the committees.

THE COMMITTEES OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Permanent committees of the House of Representatives have nine members, although temporary committees can have less members. The allocation of seats in committees is proportionate to the size of the caucuses in the House of Representatives. Two-thirds of the committee members are elected from the territory of the Federation of BiH and one-third from the territory of the Republika Srpska.

A committee takes decisions by a simple majority on the condition that at least a majority of members are present. The exception to this rule is taking final decisions on which the House does not vote, in which case the committee decides in accordance with the procedure stipulated in Articles 79 and 80 of the Rules of Procedure of the House.

The committees elect the Chairperson and the First and Second Deputy Chairpersons from amongst their members. They are elected from the three constituent peoples.

PARLIAMENTARY ASSEMBLY OF BOSNIA AND HERZEGOVINA - SECRETARIAT - ORGANISATIONAL STRUCTURE

COLLEGIUM OF THE SECRETARIAT

OPEN PARLIAMENT

The "Open Parliament" project was initiated in 2005 in order to bring the BiH Parliamentary Assembly and its work closer to BiH citizens through a series of organised group study visits. The project is also aimed at increasing the transparency of the work of this state institution and raising awareness about the role this institution has in the process of democratization in BiH society today.

Through this project, the legislative process and other basic functions of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH are presented to a large number of citizens. It is also an opportunity to promote objectives agreed and adopted by consensus that derive from Bosnia and Herzegovina's aspirations to join European and Euro-Atlantic structures. The original idea of the "Open Parliament" project has been built upon and now the media is also involved. Fifty one-hour "Open Parliament" TV debates have been aired, most of them have covered topics that are on the legislative agenda of the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH. This project is the first of its kind in Bosnia and Herzegovina and complements other activities the Parliamentary Assembly of BiH is doing to keep the public continually informed, such as issuing periodical publications and press releases; maintaining permanent communication with the media, governmental, non-governmental and other organizations; holding public hearings and roundtable discussions; organising visits; and conducting other promotional activities.

Over the course of the "Open Parliament" project, several thousands of citizens have visited the Parliamentary Assembly, mostly high school and university students. However, the visits can also be organised for other groups of citizens if they are interested, depending if it is possible at the time.
